"I AM"
the master of my cells.

"I am" the master of my cells.

I am a professional being. I shall receive guidance to develop. I ask my body to look and feel professional. I ask every emotion to give me daily balance in my work.

I am already successful. I ask the trading spirits around me to stay out of my professional actions and performance.

I shall train those that work by my side with a good rapport.

Our results will be well paid for, both for them and for me.

ELAINE'S QUOTE THIS MONTH:

Whispering powers of fear will destroy our right to success. Faith will open the dreaming of our cells to build what success can form for us with no problems to curse the results.

A MESSAGE FROM ELAINE

We are very thankful for faith that made us to grow into our very own self we can trust. My ideals will not be as yours; however we can share a moment to be thankful together. I have been helping to care for four of my wonderful grandchildren. It surprises me every day to see them do their everyday things with no fear of failures. My 17 month old Grandson broke his leg, yet he soon overcame the problems by learning to walk peg legged in his cast. It is so simple to find a way if we don't sit and cry in distress.

Life is always the standard to how we use it. Some will never do more than hunger, to do more than they do. If we decide to use our lifetime to enjoy success, we must know that day by day some things must be put in place. Primetuning was not a gift; it was given to me day by day for 21 years. Now we all can put the finishing touches to present it as proven to work. I thank everyone that has seen its values to help it form in power and good results.

"Spiritual Wisdom in our Cells"

Chapter 4 Trusting Faith:

Page 54: Faith is human and humans hold faith beyond today. Tomorrow is but a dream of faith to know the sun will come up and our day will be there. While ever we are here as a human, faith gives us tomorrow, you see.

Page 55 Faith is not from the past, nor is it in the future. It is in you and by you at this very moment, knowing all you know and much, much more. It can guide you into your future, and can guide you out of the past that failed to enrich your life. This will allow you to let go and rebuild. Faith is experienced in the moment. It is created from the lessons from the past that have taught us to ask this moment to build our future. With faith we do not repeat our mistakes. We are not haunted by bad luck or dogged by karmic spirits when we rely on it.

So your faith is linked only with you. Once you have formed it, it serves you and builds your dreams. It loves you and it goes before you until you know what's best for you. You can seek it to bring love towards you and its right to be with you. Some have it, others lose it, many curse it and few bless it in their every day speaking.

Some think about it but never test it. Some watch for it and never find it. So please bring it before you every morning when you dress for the day. Look into your eyes as you tidy your hair and know faith is right there for you. Take a breath and faith breathes through you. Shake someone's hand and see if his or her handshake feels trustworthy. You can be sure faith will tell you yes or no.
