STRESS RELEASE HEALTH & WELLBEING: # 47

"I am" the master of my cells.
I trust in my ability to choose properly the new staff I need. Let the people who join my workforce come with good feelings about the space they will occupy in my company.
I have the power to relate firmly and fairly and my staff will be happy to work for me for our joint success. This shall come by my being balanced with life and my own destiny, fulfilling the dreams I have created.
All my staff will have a lifestyle of a high standard, furnished with honesty and enjoyment.
We will all live the success together.

A MESSAGE FROM ELAINE

We often wonder, can we be a better person? Or have we forgotten our personal dreams? Somewhere there is a power of endless energy awaiting for us to use. None of us know what it can do until we plan to make it our right to ask for it. Would all people be happy with wealth? Or would we ask for all to be healthy?

The inner brotherhood of our human world can never choose the power, but to use the force by asking for love and happiness to fill the heart that beats for all. Mother Earth holds the seeds to inherit a family of people.

You are a source of her seeds. Be happy and wise, for no one can do that for you. Wealth comes in and goes out, health will govern the impact to our mind. Graciously receive, use and share, and the world of people becomes a family.

SPIRITUAL WISDOM in OUR CELLS

Chapter 18: Beneath the Archangels Contract.

We can change our birthright by telling our cells how to form and perform for us. When we understand right from wrong, we can build only the good things we require. Every day we remake and remodel our cells and every day we have the right to tell them how to act. We are in charge.

Over the years and the seasons of time all of everything is a glimpse into a building built with clay until the master plan is approved. Even in this clay body we will see this wonder of a perfect human being.

When the final building is created, we will all be a perfect memory of its structure. There will be no going back to anything less than perfection. Our work will be done and the glorification will be in our hands, not those of archangels or any other being.

ELAINES QUOTE THIS MONTH:

Little impacts, well appreciated, become solid once we thank the power that reveals their worthiness. One brick at a time will build our mansions.
